NUMB. 3053

WEDNESDAY DECEMBER 14, 1743.

Extracts from a Private Letter.

Paris, December 18.

HE Remittances made to the Marquis de la Chetardie, since his Departure from hence, amount to more than 100,000 Crowns; besides which, a very large Remittance has been made to our Minister at Stockholm; where, by the artful Contrivances of another great Statesman, our Party is again become very considerable. As it is our Interest to keep up a Ferment in the North, no Pains will be spared to engage the Empress of Russia to act offensively against Denmark, in case his Danish Majesty does not desist from his Pretensions upon Holstein; because it is foreseen, that such a Measure must unavoidably embroil the Czarina with some of the Allies of the Court of Vienna. It is, however, with no small Displeasure, that we learn the best Part of the Russian Court and Senate are warmly attached to the English Interest; and make no Scruple of saying publicly, That from the War in Poland some Years ago, and the late War against Sweden, they are well enough satisfied it is in the Power of France to do them Hurt; but that they have never hitherto been able to find out what Benefits could accrue from a French Alliance. But it is hoped, that the Marquis de la Chetardie will set them right in this Particular, and procure the Ratification of the Treaty of Commerce formerly concluded between this Court and that of Petersburg.

They continue to report at Versailles, that Count Montijo has succeeded in his Commission; but all our Letters from Madrid seem to intimate the contrary. His Excellency is known to be entirely in the Sentiments of the present Prime Minister to his Catholic Majesty, who is very far from relying implicitly on the Assurances given him by the Archbishop of Rennes, our Ambassador; as appears by the several Memorials sent to the Prince de Campo Florido ready drawn, and which are worded in the strongest Terms possible. In one, which he received three Weeks ago, it was said, That while immense Sums of Ready Money were sent from Spain for the Supply of the Army in Savoy, his most Christian Majesty had done very little, or nothing, to enable that Army to answer the Ends for which it was employed; but under different Pretences, had delayed the Succours of all Kinds, which had been over and over solemnly promised; which made it indispensably necessary for his Catholic Majesty to demand a precise Answer to the several Particulars contained in that Memorial, which turned chiefly upon these three Points. First, Whether a Squadron of French Ships would be ready by the 1st of February to sail with the Spanish Fleet in Toulon? Next, Whether 16 or more Battalions would embark for his Catholic Majesty's Service, when that Squadron should be ready to sail? And, lastly, Whether the French Court was resolved to declare War against the King of Sardinia? As the Count de Montijo has fixed a Day for his Departure for Frankfurt, and as that Minister seems to be as much confided in by the Emperor, as by the King his Master, we doubt, if he has not received ample Satisfaction to all these Points, whether, upon his Return hither, Things will not take a new Turn; the rather, because the Emperor pressed the Payment of his Subsidies lately, in such Terms as obliged our Ministers to make him a great Remittance, six Weeks sooner than they intended; and, at the same time, constrained them to recall the Count de Lautrec, and M. Chavigny, who are not very agreeable to his Imperial Majesty; especially the latter, who pretends to have a superior Knowledge in the Affairs of Germany, and whose Sentiments, however, happen to be directly opposite to those of the Imperial Ministers, who, nevertheless, will not submit to be dictated to by Strangers, especially in their own Concerns.

The last Advices from Berlin are not so agreeable as we expected. His Prussian Majesty agrees perfectly, in his Notions, with the Imperial Court, and does not seem to be much inclined to enter upon any Measures, till the Emperor is in a Condition to execute the Plan confided to Count Montijo; in order to which, very large pecuniary Supplies are necessary. All these Negotiations tend to the assembling an Imperial Army in the Heart of Germany, at the same Time that we are to assemble 100,000 Men upon the Rhine, under the Command of the Marshal de Belleisle, who still preserves his Reputation with the Germans; to whom, in his Behaviour, he was the very Reverse of Broglie; expressing, upon all upon Occasions, his Readiness to do every Thing that his Instructions would permit. It is, however, thought here, that if we comply in other Respects, this Point must be dispensed with; but that, to leave as little Room for Complaint as may be, the King will offer the Emperor his Choice of the Marshals Coigni and Montmorency. The Count de Saxe confers constantly with the Ministers; and, as he has made them perfectly sensible of the many Errors that were committed during the War in Germany, it is thought to be principally owing to him, that so little Inclination is shewn to employ either Broglie or Belleisle; tho' it is, at the same time, acknowledged, that the former obeyed his Instructions punctually, and that the latter made as soldierly a Retreat from Prague, as is any-where to be met with in History. According to all Appearance, the Duke de Harcourt, who, before the next Campaign will be a Marshal of France, is to command an Army of Observation in Lorraine; the rather, because he is known to be very agreeable to King Stanislaus, who, in case the War continues on that Side, might be induced to take the Field in Person; and then the having a General to act under him, for whom he has an Affection, might be of great Importance.

L O N D O N.

Yesterday, at a Court of Admiralty, John Fletcher, Mate of the John and Johannah, was indicted for the Murder of John Danvers, who was in a Boat belonging to a Customhouse Sloop. The Council for the Prosecution were Dr. Paul, Dr. Strahan, Mr. Lee, and Mr. Rider; for the Prisoner, Mr. Serjeant Wynne, and Dr. Andrew. The Trial lasted several Hours, and the Jury were some Hours before they could agree. They once proposed to find a Special Verdict, yet, at length, brought the Prisoner in Guilty; but recommended him for Mercy.

Andrew Miller, Chief Mate of the Thomas and Diana, was tried by another Jury, and convicted of the Murder of Capt. Nelson, his Commander, in Smirna Bay; and they both received Sentence of Death. Their Trials will speedily be published, with Leave of the Court, by M. Cooper, in Paternoster Row.

The Providence, Arnold, from Newfoundland to Leghorn, is taken by the Spanish Privateers, and carried into Majorca. The same Privateer was also in quest of another Newfoundland Ship, when these Letters came away.

The Johanna-Wilhelmina, Martin Moulder, from Surinam for Amsterdam, is lost near Carmarthen.

The Directors of the India Company have appointed John Goodwin, Esq. a Native of St. Helena, to be the Company's Fourth in Council at that Place; and this Day Col. Dunbar, lately appointed Governor of St. Helena, will take his Leave of the Court of Directors, in order to embark for his Government.

The Right Rev. the Lord Bishop of Ely has presented the Rev. Charles Ray, M. A. one of his Lordship's Domestic Chaplains, to the Vicarage of St. Peter's in St. Alban's, in the County of Hertford, void by the Death of the Rev. Dr. Romney.

Yesterday the Right Hon. the Lord Walpole, Auditor of his Majesty's Exchequer, appointed Mr. Clarke, one of the Clerks in the Peil-Office belonging to the Exchequer, to succeed Mr. Wright, deceased, as one of the Clerks in the Annuity Office.

The same Day was held a Board of Admiralty, when their Lordships appointed Mr. Carter to be Carpenter of the Lenox, an 80 Gun Ship; and Mr. Joseph Hatton to be Carpenter of the Norwich, a 50 Gun Ship.

A Dispensation has passed the Great Seal to enable the Rev. Francis Brown, M. A. Chaplain to his Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, to hold the Vicarage of Westfield in the County of Salter, together with the Rectory of Saddlecome in the said County.

Yesterday the following Numbers were drawn Prizes in the State Lottery; viz. No. 67,509, 1000 l.; No. 55,920, 9023, 500 each. No. 41,657, 71,923, 2078, 54,112, 42,809, 66,152, 100 l. each. The last of these was sold in Shares at Lowe and Berry's three Days before.

Joseph Jones, late Servant to Mr. Benjamin Cole, Broker, deceased, at his State-Lottery-Office, between the Fore-door of Jonathan's Coffee-House and the Swan Tavern, in Exchange-Alley, continues to dispose of Tickets and Shares of Tickets at the current Market Price, with the same Safety as before the Drawing of the Lottery, he warranting them undrawn by signing his Name on the Back. He likewise keeps correct Numerical and Register Books; where any Person entering their Numbers at Six Pence per Ticket, may have an immediate Account sent them of their Success if in Town, and by the first Post to any Part of Great Britain or Ireland. Bank, East-India, and South Sea Stocks, with the several Annuities, and India Bonds, are bought and sold with the same Care and Fidelity, by the said Joseph Jones, as was done by him many Years during the Life of his late Master. Ready Money for Blanks and Prizes, and for his Shares of Tickets, is paid at the said Office as soon as drawn.

As it has been found by Experience, that the examining during the Hours of drawing the Lottery, is too great an Interruption to the Posting the Numerical Book correctly, therefore Messieurs Lowe and Berry take all possible Care to avoid it. On this Account, all those who wish to be informed with Certainty of their Success, go (after Three o'Clock) to their Office in Stationers-Alley, Ludgate-street. That the Town may not be obliged to buy of Strangers, and perhaps have Counterfeit Tickets imposed on them; they sell each Morning ing and Evening Tickets, Shares, and Chances, warranted undrawn, in the cheapest Methods; and their Demand increases exceedingly, as every one is sure of having the Money (there) as soon as drawn, Blank or Prize.
